POLICE CONDUCT OVERSIGHT COMMISSION Public Case Synopses January 2018

| 8 | Dismissed – no | 5-104.01 Professional Policing |
|----|--------------------|---|
| | basis | Complainant alleges that she saw a suspicious "plastic gal[.] bottle" in a lobby close to |
| | | an elevator. Complainant asserts that she believed the bottle to be dangerous and |
| | | called the police to inspect. However, Complainant asserts that the officers failed to |
| | | take her complaint seriously and instead were "mocking and disrespectful." At one |
| | | point, she claims that one of the officers "tauntingly stated 'I've got your bottle" and |
| | | laughed. After this, Complainant contends that she tried to get on the elevator but was |
| | | prevented from doing so by Officer 1, who grabbed her by the arm, pushed her back, |
| | | turned her around and remarked if Complainant wanted to go to jail. |
