8th Annual
trans
equity
summit

about the summit

As we move through continued crisis and towards new experiments in being together, this year's Summit is an offering. May it help illuminate paths towards joy, towards each other, and towards the creation of something new.

Programming will be both virtual and in-person and includes breakout sessions, performances, a career and resource fair, and healing and aesthetics offerings. The Summit is free and open to the public, and we encourage anyone interested in furthering trans equity to attend.
