2022 Homegrown Minneapolis Food Council Members

Statement of Vision
Homegrown Minneapolis Food Council envisions a vibrant local food system that enhances the health of all residents, protects the earth, increases economic vitality, expands social connectedness, and improves food security.

Kevalin Aulandez, Dakota County Public Health, Johns Hopkins Center for American Indian Health
Jenny Breen, University of Minnesota, Transforming The Table
Jason Brisson, Community Planning & Economic Development, City of Minneapolis
Keely Cervantes, Conservation Minnesota
Matt Croaston, Minneapolis resident community representative
Jhaelynn Elam, General Mills
Kevin Ellis, Hennepin County
Nolan Greene, Twin Cities Co-op Partners/Linden Hills Co-op
Brandon Griffin, The Sanneh Foundation
Rebecca Gross, Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board
Kim Havey, City of Minneapolis Sustainability Division
Andrea Inouye, Office of Mayor Jacob Frey, City of Minneapolis
Danielle Isaacson, Minnesota Department of Agriculture
Marcus Kar (Co-Chair), Youth Farm
Kevin Keopraseuth, Minneapolis Health Department
Kristen Klingler, Minneapolis Health Department
Will Lucker, CAPI USA
James Miller, Minneapolis resident community representative
Minneapolis City Council representative (open)
Minneapolis Public Schools staff representative (open)
Leslie Modrack, Minneapolis Park and Recreation Board community representative
Elizabeth Mullen, Chowgirls Catering
DeVon Nolen (Co-Chair), West Broadway Farmers Market
Helen Schnoes, Minnehaha Creek Watershed District, Minneapolis Public Schools community representative
Julie Wong, UFisheries

For more information: www.minneapolismn.gov/homegrown homegrown@minneapolismn.gov